SALT Conference 2023 – sign up for workshop proposals is now OPEN!

The SALT annual conference will take place on Saturday 28th October 2023 (am) at the University of Strathclyde. The event will be a hybrid event. There will be workshops for people attending in-person and workshops for those joining online.

The theme of this year's conference is Learners without borders: empowering and inspiring Scotland's language learners.

If you would like to offer a workshop on a topic relevant to Scotland's Modern Languages teachers (from any sectors), fill in the form and we will be in touch with you! We are keen to hear from all over Scotland and highlight the excellent practice that is happening across the country. Your session will last a maximum of 45 minutes and can be on any topic that you think will be interesting to ML teachers.
